Johnstech Opens Singapore Sales & Service Center

Minneapolis, MN / Singapore – Johnstech International Corporation, a global leader of Test Contactor solutions and services for the semiconductor industry, is pleased to announce the opening of its new Singapore Sales and Service Center.

"For more than 16 years, we've developed and maintained great relationships with distributors and customers throughout Asia," says Johnstech's Founder and CEO, David Johnson. "As test and design markets continue to shift to Asia, we continue to adjust our service and support to best meet our partner and customer need. Our partners include not only our distributors, but OEMs, integrators, and other value-add suppliers that work with us and our customers to provide the industry's best test solutions."

The new Johnstech Singapore Sales & Service Center will house field service engineering, applications engineering, and customer service in support of Asia. "The new Asia Sales & Service Center in Singapore allows us to be closer to our Asian-based customers," says Gary Teh, Asia regional channel manager. "We can now respond to channel partner demands for real-time business and technical support."

Singapore is significant to Johnstech and our customers for a number of reasons, says Dave Ruelle, director of sales and service. "Singapore is a free trade zone, making it easy to import and export materials for our operations. It is a central point in S.E. Asia where a large number of our customers are located. It also is a good location for tapping into an experienced workforce. This last point clearly shows in the quality of staff we were able to hire for this new office."

Ruelle also notes that, as Johnstech marks its 20th year of business in the semiconductor industry, this new office addition is a way to honor Johnstech's past and its long-term Asian partnerships, while celebrating its future growth in the Asian marketplace. An open house event was held in May to honor partners and customers. The festivities included a ribbon cutting ceremony followed by a traditional Chinese Lion Dance to create an environment of luck and prosperity.

Those working in or visiting the Singapore area can find the new Johnstech office at:
